Wallington United Reformed Church

Dear Friends....

We are now in the season of Advent so let me take this opportunity to wish you a good Advent. I'm not being flippant just trying to draw your attention to this important season of the year which tends to get lost in the preparations for Christmas. Advent is more than the four weeks in which we get ready for the celebration of Christ's birth; it is the time of year when we concentrate on looking at ourselves in the light of Christ's coming. If we were to meet Christ tomorrow, or even today, would we be happy or worried?

Advent is the season of hope, the time of dreamers in the daylight, of prophets and revolutionaries of non-violent belief. The readings of Advent are intended to tear us out of our ruts and out of the usual pattern of our days. They are intended to startle us and awaken us to almost infinite possibilities as we prepare for the coming of Christ into our lives. The opening verses of the second chapter of the prophet Isaiah (vv1-5) set the tone of the coming weeks with a stirring vision of God's hopes for humankind and all creation.

But Advent is also the season of repentance and renewal as we prepare to meet the Christ who comes to us in the Christmas season. When confronted with the light of the world what is hidden in the dark places of our lives is revealed, there is no hiding place, and repentance is the only appropriate response.

At Christmas we use lights in many different ways. We talk of the switching on of the lights; we put coloured lights on our Christmas trees; and we hold candlelight and Christingle services. All these can be pretty, even dazzling and distracting, but let's not forget that one of the themes that runs through John's Gospel is Jesus Christ the Light of the World.

Light overcomes darkness, it can banish fear, and it can also show what has hidden in the dark places that we, or others, would rather not reveal.

With the New Year only a few short weeks away maybe one of the best resolutions we can make is to allow the light of Christ to shine into those dark places of our lives and take a good look at ourselves. Then we can perhaps be a little more honest and open about ourselves, both with God and others, and the light of Christ will be better able to shine through us.

May the deep and rich gifts of Christmas be yours this year.

Our Wider Community

As we reach the end of 2022, will you be looking back over the last 12 months and pondering on all the things you have (or have not ) achieved.

What do you think you have achieved?

Have you been able to organise, or re-organise something, or to make it work better?

Have you been able to identify a problem, and solve it.

Have you come up with a new idea that has improved things.

Have you worked on your own special projects.

An achievement is an accomplishment—something achieved with effort or skill. Achieve and achievement often imply the completion of something important or difficult—a lofty goal or a great feat. This may not be the case.

An achievement can be in anything. In sports, in academics, in social life, in art, in Boy Scouts, in cooking or in any aspect of life.

Sometimes we don't see or acknowledge our own achievements even when others see them clearly. Everyone has achievements in their life. Look for yours and build on them.

Do you try to greet everyone with a smile?

Are you good at listening to others?

Do you try to always do your best?

These may seem simple achievements but they are your personal skills and qualities.

Focus on your successes.

Develop your qualities.

AND....always be confident in anything you know you can do well.

Have a wonderful Christmas and a Happy New Year.

May God grant you his peace.

The Moderator's Christmas Letter 2022

Nevertheless, there will be no more gloom for those who were in distress. In the past he humbled the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, but in the future, he will honour Galilee of the nations, by the Way of the Sea, beyond the Jordan

<sup>2</sup> The people walking in darkness have seen a great light; on those living in the land of deep darkness a light has dawned. <sup>3</sup> You have enlarged the nation and increased their joy as they rejoice before you: Isaiah 9: 1-2

Dear friends,

It has been yet another challenging year. Once again, it seems that we have had our roots shaken. The war in Ukraine feels so close to us. The rise in the cost of living and our fuel bills challenge us as never before. With fewer Stipendiary Ministers in the United Reformed Church, Church Life Review and our general decline, it may feel that we are living in a truly dark and tumultuous time. It is a real test of our faith to hang on and believe that God is still doing something amazing in the world when change, subversive politics and war surround us.

So, praise the Lord for Christmas where we welcome light in our darkness. We are reminded that God comes to be with us again. We don't need to be afraid of our future because we are all in God's hands. We have had to be creative in our thinking the last 2 years. As I go around the Synod, I still see signs of hope and growth. New people coming through the doors of our churches. Warm Hubs and other mission activities growing. I see people offering themselves for ministry of all types. It is very exciting. Yes, there are still places where challenges exist, but that is where God is calling us to be light.

Can I encourage you to reread the story of Jesus' birth. To sit with the passages and wonder, 'what does Jesus' arrival mean for me?' There are Advent bible studies going on all over the Synod which are a great way to engage further with this wonderful story. As in Isaiah 9:1-2 above, Christ is at the centre of Christmas which is something good to share with our congregations. Is Christ at the centre of our lives though? With Christ at our very core, we will have peace and can be reassured that we and the world are still in God's hands.

Please pray for your Ministers, Local Church Leaders and Lay preachers during this busy season. They offer such a great service for the Church. Have a wonderful Advent and Christmas. May we all catch the hope of Christ to share at this dark time. May God continue to do a 'new thing' in you and in me.

Every blessing

2022 Prayer Handbook

Edited by Karen Campbell and Ian Fosten

It is fifty years since the United Reformed Church came into being.
Recognising this significant milestone,
'Jubilee' is the theme for the 2022 Prayer Handbook.

This Jubilee is not so much a time for looking back, but can give us an opportunity to look honestly, carefully and prayerfully at where we are encountering God in everyday events today.

As we reach the end of our 50th Anniversary Year, we include two thoughts from the Handbook. As we look back over the year, we remember the loss of our great Queen Elizabeth II, the times of turmoil throughout many the parts of the World, as well as our own personal reflections.

Saviour, Messiah, Lord

In the 2022 Prayer Handbook, by Maggie Hindley

This last Sunday of the year,
this Christmas Day,
this joyful Sabbath,

sing a new song,
rejoice,
glorify and praise God,

because the Saviour has come to God's children who are poor and exploited;
the Messiah has come
to God's children who walk in the darkness of oppression;
the Lord has come to our generation in its idolatry.

Rejoice, and ponder these things.
Then follow this new-born baby,
your Saviour, your Messiah, your Lord
into the New Year and beyond,
into the unknown,
into his wonderful kingdom of compassion and truth.
Amen

A most unlikely saint

In the 2022 Prayer Handbook, by Karen Campbell

I wonder if I am called to be a saint?

That's a funny thought.
I think I am SO far from being saintly -
my halo hangs more than a little crooked!

Do I know how to refuse evil and choose good ...?
Debatable!
"Wrong" often has a deceptively attractive disguise!

Do I always consciously choose for good?
Mostly ...but sometimes I sort of push the boundaries and hope I get away with it.

Am I always conscious of your voice speaking to me ...
and when I do hear you speaking, do I always listen,
let alone obey ...?
Hmmm ...

Oh Lord, by your grace alone I stand.

Let your face continue to shine
that even this unlikely "saint" may be saved.

Prayer for Global Economic Justice

God of abundant love, grace, life. We turn to you in anger and lament. The state of the world lacks so much; economic injustice steals life – human, environmental, even space. We know the richer get (much) richer, while the poor fall even more into poverty. BUT it is not that there are poor nations – there are impoverished nations; or that there poor people – they are impoverished people...because the global economic system is based on injustice and lies and stealing.

We turn to YOU – when you said “it is good” you meant it! Natural resources, sea resources, human creativity, and talents... there was so much there, and in living together this was multiplied and life was filled with laughter, dance, hope, empathy. Then sisters and brothers were enslaved, nature was exploited, air was poisoned, and wealth was worshiped as deity and accumulation became the norm: those who have are; those who don't have are not.

Creator, you continue to remind us that your way is best, and until it becomes our way there will be injustice.

In hope we seek you: may your love inspire us to love and grow together in respect. Amen.

Robert Jordan
