Wallington United Reformed Church

Dear Friends....

Advent begins on the fourth Sunday before Christmas each year and ends on Christmas Eve. For many this is merely a time for preparing for Christmas or, indeed, 'doing' Christmas with parties and gatherings, meaning Christmas Day and what follows can feel something of an anti-climax.

Whatever our age for most of us there is something about this time of year that brings joy when the wonder and beauty of this season sweep over us and our daily routine is mixed with moments of awe. Turning the calendar to the last page suggests there is something new around the corner and putting up the decorations and lights also point to something different.

In the church these four weeks are a time of reflecting, paying attention to God, prayer, and joyful expectation even if some of the Advent Bible readings are somewhat startling, but here too we are looking forward to something new. The first Sunday of Advent is actually the New Year's Day for the Church, and the beginning of a new Church calendar. Of course the first Christmas was when God truly did do a new thing. After centuries of sending messengers to bring his people home he now sent himself to be at home among us.

The readings of Advent are intended to tear us out of our ruts and our usual pattern of our days. They are intended to startle us and awaken us to almost infinite possibilities as we prepare for the coming of Christ into our lives.

As so often in the past, Advent comes this year at a time of economic uncertainty, political discord, wars around the world, and grave concern for our future; not unlike the days when the Christ Light first shined into our world. The visions of Isaiah and the other advent prophets are as real today as they ever were. The promises of God are as sincere today as they have ever been. Whilst we give and receive our presents in a few weeks' time there are those who still need to realise they are offered the greatest gift of all - the gift of God himself in the person of Jesus Christ. Through our words, actions and presence it is to be hoped that others too can receive that gift and make a new start in the coming days.

May your Advent be filled with moments of awe and signs of something new.

A place of community

Sunday November 19 has been designated as the World Day of Remembrance for Road Traffic Victims, when we are invited to remember the 1.3 million people killed every year on the world's roads.

<https://worlddayofremembrance.org/>

Bill Leadbetter from the Australian Centre for Christianity & Culture prepared a short reflection on road safety, based on the Parable of the Good Samaritan.

'Road Safety professionals have come to recognise that the only way in which we can safely navigate the hazards of road travel is to do so together. They seek, through advertising, regulation and legislation, to change community attitudes and the culture of the road.

The changes that they seek are not little – they are deep, as deep as the self-image of motorists, and the daily habits that they breed. The priests and the Levites, the proud and the self-absorbed, want to get past those in need as soon as they can. They hurry past, deliberately uninterested, neither looking, nor caring. Ultimately, their road may lead to death or serious injury.

Christian motorists are encouraged, both by this parable and the instincts of our road safety professionals, to be neighbourly, to regard the road as a place of community in which hazards are minimised because we are united in a common aim of getting safely to our destinations.

The road is a place of peril. While the nature of the danger has changed since the time of Jesus, the fact of danger has not. Neither has the need to face that danger not through assertive and egotistic individualism, but through the acts of radical neighbourliness to which Christians are daily called.'

Our Wider Community

In this season

Lord,
in a season when every heart
should be happy and light, many of us are struggling with the heaviness of life's burdens.

Many disasters and tragedies ruin the gift of joy that you give to us over Christmas.

Many go hungry, cold and lonely
over this period.
We ask that you give them strength and courage to carry on as Jesus did even through harsh times.

Let us also remember the true meaning of Christmas and how your son was born to us, died and rose again.
Help us to refocus our minds to be be charitable, caring and giving just like Jesus taught us.

Amen.

Lord, in this holy season of prayer and song and laughter, we praise you for the great wonders you have sent us: for shining star and angel's song, for infant's cry in lowly manger. We praise you for the Word made flesh in a little Child. We behold his glory, and are bathed in its radiance.

We ask your prayers for all who are anxious or unwell and those who are housebound or have any difficulties at this time.

[If you have any news of the church family to bring us up to date or that you would like to be included in Contact please let Alan know. Thank you.]

Sutton becomes first UK local authority to be awarded Silver Trailblazer Status by Race Equality Matters

In 2020 the Sutton Council embarked on a journey to change its approach to equality, diversity and inclusion. By listening to colleagues' experiences and through education activities, the Council has changed its policies and procedures whilst at the same time continuing to challenge the ways things are done, breaking down racial barriers to create a more inclusive and equal environment.

The Council has overhauled its recruitment processes, offered training and career pathways to staff to progress in their careers, implemented a reverse mentoring policy, as well as creating an inclusive language guide that focuses on race and all protected characteristics. The inclusive language guide has proven so successful that it has been shared with schools and voluntary and community sector organisations to support residents in treating each other in a more inclusive way helping to make Sutton the best place it can be.

The London Borough of Sutton has received Silver Trailblazer Status by Race Equality Matters. The Council has become the first local authority in the country to be awarded silver status that recognises organisations who have made a meaningful impact on tackling race inequality.

Baby sweet, baby mine,
King of Kings, so sublime,
Born for us on Christmas Day,
Master of all that you'll survey.

Baby dear, baby fine,
Lord of Lords, so divine,
Your birth we celebrate, and share
Our lives with you, as we say your prayer.

Baby loved, baby shine,
God, Creator, we are thine,
Be our Father, dwell within
Our souls, and let our praise begin.

Commitment for Life

URC offer these prayers and images for your services of worship, church magazines etc to encourage and guide your prayer for global justice.

Jesus is our Neighbour, By Simon Peters, former Walking the Way Project Manager

Loving God, in every aspect of our lives, the places we live and work, laugh and play, learn and grow, you are there, guiding and nurturing us in your ways of love, peace and justice. If that goes for us, it goes for everyone else as well. Sometimes, it's easy to find you. A warm handshake from a stranger, a meal served by a friend or a hug from a loved one are all signs that you are alive and active amongst us. At other times, though, we find it hard to recognise you in others. They may not look like we look, think like we think, live like we live or worship as we worship, and yet, whether we can sense you or not, you are there, working through them.

God's word is like a light to guide us.

Help us to recognise that, in the same way you live in us, so you live in all our neighbours: those whom we know and those we do not, those whom we relate to and those we do not, those whom we like, and those we do not. May we always look for you, and find you, in everyone, friend, stranger or otherwise.

In Your Precious Name, Amen
